Red Cross Welcomes New Young Patrons Board Member

Board Next Generation of Philanthropic Leaders

[NEW YORK, NY] — Rachel Zamata, Attorney and Founder of the Law Office of Rachel Zamata, LLC, with offices in Tennessee, Washington, D.C., and New York, recently joined the board of the Young Patrons of the American Red Cross Greater New York Region.

“We are pleased to welcome Rachel Zamata to the Young Patrons,” said Kate Joynt, founding member and chair of the Young Patrons. “We look forward to working with her to advance the mission of the Red Cross and share its amazing story with the new generation of business and philanthropic leaders.”

The Greater New York Region Red Cross Young Patrons Board consists of 13 business and community leaders ages 21-40, who support the Red Cross's humanitarian mission. The Greater New York region, which include the five boroughs of New York, all of Long Island, the Lower Hudson Valley, Westchester County and Greenwich, Conn., is one of the most productive Red Cross regions in the nation.

Ms. Zamata's office assists clients with successfully litigating commercial and personal disputes within the financial services, technological, healthcare, construction, insurance, and publishing industries. Her office also focuses on assisting clients with securities litigation and with mergers and acquisitions.

“I am honored and humbled by the invitation to join the American Red Cross Young Patrons,” said Rachel Zamata. “The mission of the Red Cross improves and benefits so many lives across the country and around the world. I look forward to joining this group of leaders to support and grow its mission.”

In addition to her professional endeavors, Ms. Zamata has been active in working within her communities, and has served on the boards of the Federally Qualified Health Center University Community Health Services, the Lawyers Association for Women, the Legal Aid Society Leadership Cabinet, and she also serves on the board of directors for the Nashville Ballet.
